A-Z of Sites for the study of time

Archives
Art Gallery
Blogs
Broken watch
Cooperative Archive – (Manchester)
Corporate calendars
Corporations – shared diaries – outlook – doodle
Digital sources
Documents
Everyday activities
Everything is a clock
Everywhere
Experience
Facebook
Facebook birthday reminders
False memories
Farming (with outlook calendar)
Film Archives
Films John Cleese
Flickr
Google
Government policies
Hack Labs
Hair Salon
Holidays and workdays
Homeless Shelter
Homes
If you want a job done find a busy person
Immigration (being away from home)
In relation to something else
Library
Living Rooms

Maps
Mass Observation Archive (Sussex)
Meal-times
Memories (as a proxy)
Monastery
Music-making
Objects
Offices
Photo archives & personal collections
Photoalbums
Photos
Physical settings
Practices
Reindeer Migration
Retirement
School
Seasons
Sports Track
Spreeder - App that gives a word at a time to your own speed Online
Stories/narratives
Study
Time has a medium
Time is relational
Train Station
Trains
Twitter
Watch that catches up when you look
Watch that only advances when you look at it
Workshops (like this)

By the Attendees of the Festival of Methods for Studying Perceptions of Time, Edinburgh 2013
www.temporalbelongings.org