

Day One – Tuesday, 2 December 2014

All panels and breaks will take place in the rooms of the Division of History of Science, Technology and Environment, KTH, Teknikringen 74D, Level 5

10:00-10:30	Introduction Nina Wormbs, Head of Division of History of Science, Technology and Environment Thom van Dooren and Michelle Bastian, Symposium Organisers
10:30-12:00	Panel 1 – Extinction (Chair: Thom van Dooren) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Im/mortal Perspectives: The “Useful Dead” in Contemporary Fiction Susan McHugh</li> <li>2. Tagging turtles and chasing ghosts: exploring the times and spaces of extinctions Michelle Bastian</li> <li>3. Is Security Going Extinct? Audra Mitchell</li> </ol>
12:00-13:30	Lunch (Extended lunch time to allow participants to setup their contribution to the DIY Exhibition)
13:30-15:00	Panel 2 – Temporal Worlds (Chair: Michelle Bastian) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. From Life to Life Support: Ecotechnological Futures in Space Sabine Höhler</li> <li>2. Poetics of place and trickeries of time: the creative challenges of evoking 'the anthropocene' Sara Penrhyn Jones</li> <li>3. Shattering Seeds: Temporalities of Miracle Rice Elaine Gan</li> </ol>
15:00-15:30	Fika (Afternoon Tea)
15:30-17:00	Panel 3 – The living, the dead, and ... (Chair: Sverker Sorlin) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Life and Death in the Plasticsphere Heather Davis</li> <li>2. Wisdom of the rocks: Art and the organic after a geologic turn Monika Bakke</li> <li>3. Unsettling Life/Death: Living with and as jellyfish Elizabeth Johnson</li> </ol>
17:00-18:00	Free Time
18:00-19:30	Keynote 1 – Joe Masco “The Six Extinctions: Visualizing Planetary Ecological Crisis Today” Location: Teknikringen 72, Room V3
19:30-20:30	Reception and DIY Exhibition viewing Welcome by Marco Armiero, Director of the Environmental Humanities Laboratory, KTH

Day Two – Wednesday, 3 December 2014

All panels and breaks will take place in the rooms of the Division of History of Science, Technology and Environment, KTH, Teknikringen 74D, Level 5. Keynote location below.

9:00-10:30	Keynote 2 – Vinciane Despret “Cosmo-ecological Sheep and the Arts of Living on a Damaged Planet” (written with Michel Meuret) Location: KTH Biblioteket, Sydöstra Salongen (Library, Southeast Salon)
10:30-11:00	Fika (Morning Tea)
11:00-12:30	Panel 4 – Situating the Anthropocene (Chair: Sabine Höhler) 1. Disaster's Gift: Anthropocene and Capitalocene temporalities in Mahasweta Devi's 'Pterodactyl', Puran Sahay, and Pirtha' David Farrier 2. Deep Time as an Archive of Feeling (Queering the Anthropocene) Astrida Neimanis 3. Placing the Anthropocene Libby Robin and Dag Avango
12:30-13:30	Lunch
13:30-15:00	Panel 5 – Cohabitation (Chair: Libby Robin) 1. Interfaces of Felidae and Extinction: 'Victim' and 'Cause' Jeffrey Bussolini 2. The Unwelcome Crows: Hospitality in the Anthropocene Thom van Dooren 3. On time, finitude and infinite compassion: How do we begin to care? Astrid Schrader
15:00-15:30	Fika (Afternoon Tea)
15:30-17:00	Panel 6 – Unsettling Times (Chair: Thom van Dooren) 1. Is loss a precondition for activism? Critiquing mourning / melancholia distinctions in the context of ecological irreversibility. Stefan Skrimshire 2. Towards a reading of temporal ecology and differentiated natural temporalities (durations, rhythms, tempos) in the narrative timescapes of modernity Owain Jones 3. De-Extinction and Melancholia: Narcissistic Attachments Emily Thew
17:00-18:00	Free Time
18:00-19:00	Bronislaw Szerszynski “The Martian Book of the Dead” Location: Teknikringen 72, Room V3
20:00	Dinner – Beirut Café, Engelbrektsgatan 37, Stockholm (ph: 08-21 20 25)

Day Three – Thursday, 4 December 2014

All panels and breaks will take place in the rooms of the Division of History of Science, Technology and Environment, KTH, Teknikringen 74D, Level 5

9:00-10:30	Keynote 4 – Sverker Sörlin “Ontologies of Planetary Ephemera: Life Cycles and Synchronicities of the Cryo-sphere” Location: Teknikringen 72, Room V3
10:30-11:00	Fika (Morning Tea)
11:00-12:30	Panel 7 – After Lives (Chair: Michelle Bastian) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Endlings, endings, and new beginnings Dolly Jørgensen</li> <li>2. Anthropogenesis: Rescue Genetics in the Anthropocene Stephanie S. Turner</li> <li>3. "Ghost Species" Shane McCorristine* and Bill Adams</li> </ol>
12:30-13:30	Lunch
13:30-15:30	Collaborative Analysis Session In our final session we will move to participant-led discussions of the themes, questions and problems that have arisen throughout the symposium. Using the method of ‘Open Space’ we will have the opportunity to synthesise the discussions we’ve had and explore their implications and ramifications. Followed by Concluding Remarks

Hashtag: #IliA14